

Luigi Brusamolino

Senior Director Global Services, Symantec Southern Europe

Luigi Brusamolino is Senior Director of Southern Europe Consulting Services.

He is responsible for consulting sales, business development and delivery for Symantec's security and availability consulting offering. Brusamolino is also responsible for consulting services in the financial sector for EMEA.

Brusamolino joined Symantec in September 2004. Before joining Symantec he served as senior manager in the security and risk management business unit at PricewaterhouseCoopers. During his career at PwC he advised senior executives of Fortune 500 companies in financial, telecommunications, power & energy, and government sectors on IT governance and information security related issues. Prior to PwC, Brusamolino was the manager of Securteam (AtosOrigin group), responsible for Italy.

During his 20 years career in IT market, Brusamolino held also positions in project management and engineering at ABB and Alcatel.

Brusamolino is graduated from the Università degli studi di Milano, Italy and is a CISM (Certified Information Security Manager).